Lucky Sods

by John Godber

Morris believes that bad luck always follows good, so when he and wife Jean win two million pounds on the National Lottery it looks like things can only get worse! Their marriage is already on the rocks but, with financial worries seemingly over, their past catches up with them, the cracks in their marriage widen and their relatives become resentful. This bittersweet comedy proves that money isn't everything and that it certainly can't buy you love.

Auditions: Friday 24th June 7.30pm

9–12 November 2011

Gaslight

by Patrick Hamilton

This play provided Alfred Hitchcock with one of his first movie hits and has been a favourite amongst theatre goers for more than eight decades. Set in foggy London in 1880, the gaslights cannot dispel the shadows in the home of recently married Mr and Mrs Manningham. What danger prowls the attics at night? Will Mrs Manningham lose her sanity completely, or is her life in deadly danger? Find out in one of the greatest thrillers in theatre.

Auditions: Tuesday 9th August 7.30pm

19–22 and 26–28 January 2012

Red Riding Hood

by Bob Hammond

The Big Bad Wolf has promised his Great Aunt he will not eat people but, since then, Farmer Hood's chickens have been steadily disappearing. Granny Hood is on the look out for a nice professional man and needs her cottage decorating. Red Riding Hood needs a new dress to go to the village dance and Tom, the very shy Woodcutter, wants to take her to the dance. Can the chickens survive? Who will be their saviour? Will it all end happily? Well it is the traditional family pantomime so you can be sure there'll be lots of laughs, lots of music and a fun time for all.

Auditions: Sunday 16th October 2.30pm

14–17 March 2012

Ladies Day

by Amanda Whittington

Pearl, Jan, Shelley and Linda are a fish-filleting foursome from Hull who have a day at the races in the year that Royal Ascot was held in York. Swapping their hairnets for fancy hats they feel like fish out of water but as the champagne flows, bets are placed and secrets spill out. Add a bit of love interest from a number of menfolk and this raucous comedy will have you cheering the women all the way to the finishing post.

Auditions: Saturday 3rd December 7.30pm

6–9 June 2012

Bolt From The Blue

by David Tristram

Edward Jones was just an ordinary man, doing ordinary things - until the day before his 40th birthday. What happened next was, quite literally, incredible. It defies belief. It defies logic. It defies the fundamental laws of science and nature. But it happened. And it came like a bolt from the blue. This zany, fast paced comedy featuring twenty characters and an invisible dog will provide plenty of laughs but the poignant and unusual story will touch every human emotion before reaching its extraordinary conclusion.

Auditions: Tuesday 28th February 7.30pm

5–8 July 2012
Junior Production

Bugsy Malone

Play by Alan Parker
Words and music by Paul Williams

Notorious gangster Fat Sam is a worried man. Business is great in his speakeasy but he fears that his rival, Dandy Dan, is trying to muscle in on his empire. Meanwhile, Bugsy Malone, a down on his heels boxing promoter, falls for singer, Blousey, and promises to get her an audition. Can Bugsy win her over and help Fat Sam out of his troubles at the same time? With a great musical score and an outrageous custard pie fight this pint-sized, pin-striped classic will delight children and adults alike.
